Thy Kingdom Come

“The time has come for a thorough reformation to take place. When this reformation begins, the spirit of prayer will actuate every believer and will banish from the church the spirit of discord and strife....The Lord will co-operate with His servants. All will pray understandingly the prayer that Christ taught His servants: ‘Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.’ Matthew 6:10.” {8 T 252}

Is it possible that Seventh-day Adventists as a whole do not fully understand the “Lords Prayer” and what Jesus was speaking about when he prayed, “Thy kingdom come on earth as it is in heaven”?

Jesus said in Matthew 24:14 “And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.”

Clearly by the words of Jesus we should be able to conclude that there is a “gospel” to be preached concerning a “kingdom” and that this “gospel of the kingdom” will be preached as a “witness” to all nations and when this gospel has done its witnessing in the earth, it is then that the end will come.

Why do I restate what Jesus said? Not for redundancy’s sake but so that the reader can begin to carefully analyze the words, putting each part in its respective place.

Daniel 2:44 “And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, [but] it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever.”

We all know the days of these kings is in the time of the ten toes of Nebuchadnezzar’s image, and beyond that we know we are now living in those days. So, with this said, shouldn’t we be able to conclude that the “gospel of the kingdom” must be preached?

James white stated in “Sermons on the Coming and Kingdom of Our Lord Jesus Christ pg 71,72, “The kingdom here mentioned [Dan. 2:44] is not a spiritual kingdom established in the minds and hearts of mortal men. In no sense of the word whatever can it be said that the kingdom was set up about the time of the first advent of Christ. If it be said that the kingdom of grace was set up by our Lord Jesus Christ at his first advent, then we inquire, Had God no kingdom of grace before that time? If not, then Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Moses, and the prophets, have perished without hope; for certainly no man can be saved without grace.

“It is true that the phrase, “It shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms,” gives the idea that the kingdom of God, for a time, is contemporary with perishable kingdoms...”

Children of The Light—Part-1

Garrick Augustus, July 15, 2014

“Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of YHWH is risen upon thee. (2) For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but YHWH shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.” Isa. 60: 1, 2

Notwithstanding the dawn of the information age, and the popularity of telecommunications, buoyed by the global information-space and library known as “the Internet,” yet the need for light on YHWH’s Word has never been greater in modern times than now. Never has there been more translations of the Bible available to humans, and never has the Word of God been more accessible to mankind than it is today, yet the unsettling truth is that never has a people been more blinded and ignorant of its teachings! And even amongst those professing Students of the Word, is a severe dearth in rightly dividing its solemn precepts, because they have taken for granted that which is assumed to be truth, and have literally pitched their campgrounds at the grave sites of their respective spiritual ancestors, who were seeing the light dimly. The cause of this inglorious turn of events to the descendants of the Reformers, can be summarized in a few pointed observations:

1. They stopped advancing in knowledge, and resigned to the “preaching” of the Word rather than the “teaching” of the Word.
2. Became complacent with the arduous labors and biblical scholarship of those who have gone before.
3. Unwilling to continue in the path of personal investigating truth for themselves.
4. Blind obedience to Pastoral scholarship at the exclusion of Scripture-based teaching.
5. Worldly mindedness and over-dependence on “Scientists and research statistics.”
6. Rejection of the oneness of God’s law—dissecting it into “moral” and “ceremonial” precepts.
7. Confusion by the many voices proclaiming that they have the truth, yet are all at odds with each other and with the Bible.

While I will not attempt, in this article, to elaborate specifically on each of the seven points noted above, I will broadly incorporate them in this presentation to illustrate that Heaven has a solution for the apathy and spiritual darkness of our age, and is highly desirous that we not only see the light, but walk therein.

“(1) But of the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you. (2) For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.” 1 Thess. 5: 1, 2.

To be children of the light, requires of us attentiveness to “the times and the seasons,” with perfect knowledge of the coming “day of the Lord” at hand. Paul felt no special urgency to further expound on the “times and seasons,” because the believers then were walking in all the revealed light on the Scriptures up to that time, and were by no means ignorant to the signs of their Roman times. After all, they were living in the shadows of the destruction of the Jerusalem temple in 70 A.D., they could sense the mustering of war between the Romans and the Jews, they saw the signs in the skies and in nature which marked the omen of that era, they also saw the ferocity with which the true believers were persecuted for following the way of the Nazerene—Y’shuah.

Were Paul writing to believers today he might have worded this passage accordingly, “But of the times and the seasons, brethren, you have a dire need that I write unto you. For yourselves do not know that the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night!” This was the case of the five foolish virgins, who did not know the value of, nor appreciate the virtues contained in the extra oil until it was eternally too late! To not fall where they failed, let’s learn their lesson:

“(1) Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom. (2) And five of them were wise, and five were foolish. (3) They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them: (4) But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps. (5) While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept.” Matt. 25: 1-5

Observe carefully that at the start of their journey both classes of virgins (wise and foolish) “took their lamps” on their way to meeting the bridegroom, knowing full well that since it was customary for bridegrooms to come at night to consummate the wedding, their groom would follow like course, and also arrive at night, and with this knowledge they knew they all needed to have had a lamp filled with oil in their possession. The purpose of the oil is to keep their lamps lit and burning, which in turn keeps them illuminated and watchful. But knowing the unpredictable nature of the world, the “wise” virgins added to their chances of meeting the bridegroom upon his arrival, one extra layer of security, they not only had their lamps filled with oil, but cared enough to buy an extra vessel with oil, peradventure the groom tarried or suffered delays for any unforeseen reason, leaving them to wait up through the wee hours of the morning. This they did, not as a matter of option, but by course of duty, because getting into the marriage—the bridal chamber—with the groom, was everything to them!

“(3) They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them: (4) But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.” Matt. 25: 3, 4.

Until now, most Christians have interpreted this “oil” to mean “The Holy Spirit,” and never went on to contextualize this idea for its relevance to the totality of the events being discussed in the parable. So in our continued quest for “light,” we shall here allow the Bible to disclose its terms and focus, in a fresh way, on the meaning of this most necessary ingredient for their lamps, the “oil.” We can all agree that there was a sense of duty and purpose which actuated the minds of the wise virgins to add to their bridal accoutrements one extra piece of luggage—the extra oil pot. Here’s God’s Word Translation (GWT) on this verse: “The foolish bridesmaids took their lamps, but they didn’t take any extra oil.”

Did you catch it? That which separated the wise virgins from the foolish was the “extra” oil. Oil is something that can be “used up” it is not inexhaustible, therefore it represents something which is scarce, and will come to its end someday—something which will be “used up.” In this regard we find the Bible’s teaching of this basic truth, that there are some things which, in this life, will be “used up” and forever pass away: “Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.” 1 Cor. 13: 8.

Like the virgins’ oil, we see that the teachings of God’s Word—the Bible, will one day be used up—they shall “fail,” “cease,” and “vanish away,” in the face of greater truth at the “perfect day,” when Y’shuah Himself will be there: “For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters.” Rev. 7: 17.

In contrast to prophecies which shall one day cease, we now examine the concept of the oil’s being the Holy Spirit. Since it is impossible for the Holy Spirit to be, “used up,” as it were, the symbol applied must perfectly illustrate the point of an exhaustible, and scarce commodity. For example, no believer has the Holy Spirit in reserve, as in the parable with the extra oil, but truth on the other hand, can be reserved for a future time wherein that knowledge will become applicable—present truth. Since oil is the fuel which keeps the lamps lit, thereby giving light to those using it, the burning lamp is therefore a fitting symbol for the Word of God—The Bible. David foresaw this and declared, “Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path...The entrance of thy words giveth light; it giveth understanding unto the simple.” Ps. 119: 105, 130.

Rather than simply presenting the oil as a symbol of the Holy Spirit, it is more consistent with the credenda of Scripture to teach that it represents “present truth”—the revealed “word” of YHWH, which illuminates our path. This is what separated both classes of virgins. The wise virgins had additional, or extra oil, which represents an additional truth (message), additional information on the nature of the Bridegroom’s coming. The foolish virgins on the other hand, were left to grope in darkness, for they had rejected the light of “present truth,” and neglected the extra oil in the vessel! They saw in this “baggage,” no relevance for their spiritual journey, and as a result paid the ultimate price of spiritual neglect—their own salvation.

This type of spiritual lackadaisical attitude is especially notorious among the church of the Laodiceans, who take great pride for, and boast in the glory of their self-defined wealth through their great attainments, when all the while the True Witness bemoans their ignorance and abject blindness! To this class, the Creator makes clear His searching indictment: “thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked.” Rev. 3: 17.

Observe that the cause of their boast is entrenched in their doctrines, for the True Witness says of them, “thou sayest” of thyself, “I am rich and increased with goods.”

Oil is something that can be “used up” it is not inexhaustible, therefore it represents something which is scarce, and will come to its end someday—something which will be “used up.”

This statement is a most accurate description of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination. As a denomination, we hold that “we have the truth,” and for years we have held ourselves aloof from anything new which did not bear the imprimatur of the “leading men,” or at the least, in later years, the endorsement of the Biblical Research Institute (BRI). That attitude has caused this institution to reject many messages of present truth from heaven, and has resulted today in the current theological crisis the leaders are confounded with!

Adventist World President, Ted Wilson, has gone on record to denounce the worldliness in the Church, while at the same time he calls on the Pastors to return to the Bible and Spirit of Prophecy principles of our faith, and shun mega-church-like worship styles, promoted by the Evangelical community. He sees the creeping compromise toward Roman Catholicism and has been raising his voice, but it might be too late, for the horses have already cleared the gates of the proverbial stable. Victor Houteff sounded this warning 84 years ago and was lambasted as a false prophet, an imposter! But the evidence of the correctness of his teachings are hard to be ignored anymore, and when the General Conference President has to say, in so many words, that whole conferences will be lost, because of the teachings of the ministry, this brings a new low to the slumber of laodiceanism.

There are now great debates on a raft on doctrinal matters in this denomination, doctrines on which we should have already been settled, in the revelation of present truth. Doctrines such as “The Investigative Judgment,” “The Judgment of the Living,” “The Seven Seals,” “The Seven Trumpets,” “The number 666,” “Homosexuality,” “The Health Message,” “Christian dress and adornment,” “Image veneration, and pagan worship (Christmas/ Easter, etc.),” “popular worship styles, and gender related matters,” “women (female) pastors,” among an host of items not here listed, are ripping the denomination at her seams. This crisis would not have been here, had we kept apace with the revelations of present truth. But the sad finality will be that not a few will lose their way to the Kingdom, because they have been brainwashed into believing that truth originates with the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, or with some other institution umbrellaed by the denomination, such as the BRI, rather than through Him who is the “way the Truth and the life.” No amount of academic training can cause us to discover truth, for it comes not by might of man’s intellect, nor by the power of his understanding, but by the agency of the Holy Spirit of Prophecy. (See Zech. 4: 6).

“While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept.” Matt. 25: 5. The danger which befell the foolish virgins was not in their sleeping, but in their preparation for the bridegroom, for in common with the foolish virgins, the wise also slept. The Scriptures are clear that they “all” (ten) slept, while the bridegroom tarried (delayed for a while). When our spiritual lamps are oil-filled we can afford to sleep without fear of waking up in darkness, but to only trim our lamps when the guest appears. Given our advances in electricity, and having been so far removed from kerosene oil-lamps, most believers today, at least in the industrialized world, are not familiar with the concept of “trimming ones lamp,” and so I shall explain it here:

“In the days when light came from burning oil in lamps, a vessel at sea needed crewmen to constantly care for the lamps. This care involved trimming the wick, which drew the oil up from the storage reservoir, so that the flame would be clean and bright. Lamp trimmers also refilled the reservoirs, which held enough oil for several hours of burning...The skilled part of being a lamp trimmer was the ability to trim a wick in such a way that it would burn evenly, without hot spots, so that it would not need attention again for some time... When lit, the wick should burn cleanly all the way up to the highest flame it can make.” <http://en.wikipedia.org>

From this example of trimming the lamp to obtain greater, or additional light, Christ drew the lesson for us to learn that the wise virgins were on the path of discovering and receiving additional light of truth to illuminate their path, even during the darkness of the night while the groom tarried. The lesson for us is very clear: there is more truth to be revealed on the word of GOD, and only those who are willing to risk everything and “buy” this extra oil of truth will be qualified to enter the marriage supper with the Lamb.

“(44) Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field. (45) Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly pearls: (46) Who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.” Matt. 13: 44, 45

“Then said he unto them, Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.” Matt. 13: 52.

“(1) My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee; (2) So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply thine heart to understanding; (3) Yea, if thou criest after knowledge, and liftest up thy voice for understanding; (4) If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for hid treasures; (5) Then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD, and find the knowledge of God. (6) For the LORD giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding. (7) He layeth up sound wisdom for the righteous: he is a buckler to them that walk uprightly. (8) He keepeth the paths of judgment, and preserveth the way of his saints. (9) Then shalt thou understand righteousness, and judgment, and equity; yea, every good path.” Prov. 2: 1-9

The wise man has further admonished us to “Buy the truth, and sell it not; also wisdom, and instruction, and understanding.” Prov. 23:23. It is important to realize that there is a dichotomy here, for on the one hand, we are admonished to “buy” the truth, while on the other hand we are counseled to “not” sell it. The only conclusion is that the Truth cannot be bought from an earthly source, for it originates in heaven. This means that there is a window of time during which this “oil” may be obtained (bought) and when that window is closed, it is closed forever, for it marks the time of probation, during which we must fortify our souls with present truth, by following the Lamb wherever he goes.

“In this parable, as in that of Matthew 24, two classes are represented. All had taken their lamps, the Bible, and by its light had gone forth to meet the Bridegroom. But while ‘they that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them,’ ‘the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.’ The latter class had received the grace of God, the regenerating, enlightening power of the Holy Spirit, which renders His word a lamp to the feet and a light to the path. In the fear of God they had studied the Scriptures to learn the truth, and had earnestly sought for purity of heart and life. These had a personal experience, a faith in God and in His word, which could not be overthrown by disappointment and delay.” The Great Controversy, p. 393.

“(8) And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are gone out. (9) But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.” Matt. 25: 8, 9 contrast to the notion that the Oil is the Holy Spirit. How can a believer, as it were, run out of the Holy Spirit? Further, how can another believer “give” the Holy Spirit to others? Let’s explore this latter question in greater detail:

“(14) Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John: (15) Who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost: (16) (For as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.) (17) Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost. (18) And when Simon saw that through laying on of the apostles’ hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money, (19) Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost. (20) But Peter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money. (21) Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.” Acts 8: 14-21.

The lesson is clear, neither the Holy Spirit nor the Truth of salvation which he Authors can be “purchased with money,” but with a “heart” that is “right in the sight of God.” It is for this reason, then, that the wise virgins admonished the foolish to “go...to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.” The disciples’ act in laying on of hands to transmit the Holy Spirit, was beneficial only to those who had paid the price of being transformed by the Messiah’s love and having a heart that was “right in the sight of God.” Simon was not aware of this mystery, and thought the simple act of laying on of hands was sufficient to transmit the power of the Holy Spirit from one person to the next, and that this power was redeemable with money. But he was corrected by Peter, who like John the Baptist, told this deceiver “Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God!”

To obtain the truth of salvation is a personal matter, we must go to the Author of Truth, the Father, Son and Holy Spirit—“them that sell”—and thus “buy” the truth for ourselves, individually. And our hearts must be “right with God”—meaning we must “do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with [our] God,” (Micah 6: 8), by giving heed to the “voice” of Him who cries to the city, through the message of His Shepherd’s Rod (Micah 6: 9). Have you, dear friend, heard of, or read the authentic Shepherd’s Rod. As in Moses' day there were many false rods which were thrown down before Pharaoh, but in the end only the true Rod stood fast. The lesson is clear, there will be many individuals pawning off what is assumed to be the Shepherd's Rod, but their lives and doctrines will defy its sacred precepts—from this class turn away! If you have a desire to learn the truths of that message sent from Heaven 84 years ago, then please contact Heralds of the King Ministries, or continue reading our literature and attending our online interactive Bible Studies, every Sabbath afternoon. (see insert for more information).

It is important to realize that there is a dichotomy here, for on the one hand, we are admonished to “buy” the truth, while on the other hand we are counseled to “not” sell it.

“And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage: and the door was shut.” Matt. 25: 10. This midnight coming of the Groom was as a thief in the night to the foolish virgins, but not so to the wise.

The wise were waiting and watching, and though asleep in the darkness of the night, they slept in the confidence that their lamps will not flicker into obscure darkness! The lesson for us is profound, that we must fortify our souls with present truth, so we are not caught off guard, into thinking that the next big event in the plan of salvation, is for Christ to appear like a bolt of lightning out of heaven to receive His church unto Himself. This indeed will happen, but it's not the next great event. Have you heard about World War Three? Have you heard of Michael's Standing up to deliver His saints? Have you heard of YHWH's pre-millennial kingdom of glory, to be set up on this earth prior to the panoramic Second Advent? Have you heard that the “stone” in Dan. 2 was cut out from a “mountain,” and likewise became a “great mountain”? Have you heard of a place called Gaza and its relation to end-time Bible prophecies? If you don't know the answer to these things from a Biblical foundation, then you are walking in precious truth, but not present truth, and you will stumble in darkness when world conditions turn out differently (as they are now), than our theological overlords predicted. It is time for you to get the extra oil for your soon-to-be-extinguished lamps. Heralds of the King Ministry is called to the kingdom for such a time as this—to dispense heaven's latter-day extra oil of truth on His holy Word, to a wayward and backslidden church, and a lost and perishing world.

“For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.” 1 Thess. 5: 3.

The lesson is clear, neither the Holy Spirit nor the Truth of salvation which he Authors can be “purchased with money,” but with a “heart” that is “right in the sight of God.”

The principal function of the United Nations is to create an atmosphere of peace and economic stability and political security amongst the nations of our world, and in their “peace” drive they will actually lull the world into believing that relative peace and security will reign in our world, when sudden destruction bursts upon us like a pregnant woman in travail to give birth. There are today many causes for concern, from a peace point of view, or the lack thereof. Statistics show that 95% of the violent military conflicts in our world today involve the Islamic religion. With the emergence of the Islamic State (IS), this further complicates the geopolitics of our times, and leaves theologians and politicians alike, wondering what's next. But for those walking in the light, none of these events are without significance in the unfolding of end-time prophecies.

“The UN Charter is built on the principle of maintaining peace: ‘To maintain international peace and security, and to that end: to take effective collective measures for the prevention and removal of threats to the peace, and for the suppression of acts of aggression or other breaches of the peace, and to bring about by peaceful means, and in conformity with the principles of justice and international law, adjustment or settlement of international disputes or situations which might lead to a breach of the peace.’” <http://www.un.org/en/documents>

“NATO is committed to the peaceful resolution of disputes. If diplomatic efforts fail, it has the military capacity needed to undertake crisis-management operations.” <http://www.nato.int>

“We, the Heads of State and Government of the member countries of the North Atlantic Alliance, have gathered in Wales at a pivotal moment in Euro-Atlantic security. Russia's aggressive actions against Ukraine have fundamentally challenged our vision of a Europe whole, free, and at peace. Growing instability in our southern neighbourhood, from the Middle East to North Africa, as well as transnational and multi-dimensional threats, are also challenging our security. These can all have long-term consequences for peace and security in the Euro-Atlantic region and stability across the globe. ...Allies are resolved to maintain and build on this legacy, as our partnerships play a crucial role in the promotion of international peace and security. At this Summit, we therefore collectively pledge to strengthen the political dialogue and practical cooperation with our partners who share our vision for cooperative security in an international order based on the rule of law... Allies emphasised the need to work together to ensure our shared goal of a Europe whole, free and at peace. We look forward to continuing the dialogue to advance this further... We are committed to exploring ways to reinforce our practical support to UN peace operations, including by enhancing cooperation between NATO and the UN in building defence and related security capacity.” Nato Wales Summit Declaration, 5 SEPTEMBER 2014 <http://www.voltairenet.org/article185214.html>

“There’s a desire to share the burden of implementing our mutual vision and mutual goal of regional and global peace and prosperity, security and stability.” <http://www.scoop.co.nz/stories>

So, from every sector in the Christianized community of nations is the call for “peace,” from “peace” in the Middle-East, to “peace” in Europe, to “peace” across the world; this is the primary and driving aim of both the UN and NATO. When they have jointly reached this state of solitude and global “peace” we may expect the fires of hell to burst forth in the most explosive war the world has seen up to this point! Hence, when they (the nations) cry “peace,” then shall sudden destruction burst upon the world, as a woman in travail. It is at this time, right now, today, that we are admonished by our King to “Seek ye the LORD, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgment; seek righteousness, seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the LORD’S anger.” Zeph. 2: 3. The “meek of the earth,” are all those who follow Him who is meek and lowly of heart, and they shall find rest to their souls. Are you a follower of the Meek One, wherever He leads, in spirit and in truth? Heralds of the King Ministries is sounding the Recruiter’s voice today, join us as we follow the Meek to His Kingdom of Glory. What is Truth?

Truth is more than evidence based on facts
Truth is in all God’s unsearchable redemptive acts
It is an idea born in the heart of our Creator YHWH
It emanates from the mouth of Him who is Love alway

Truth is not dependent on knowledge or word
Truth issues from the mouth with the two-edged sword
It is not confirmed by what we perceive
Nor is it extolled by what we believe

Truth is not helped by knowledge of fame
Truth is revealed through His Word falling like rain
It needs no endorsement from great or from small
It falls and blossoms on those hearing its merciful call

Truth is not popular among the world’s great names
Truth is not revealed through men of great fame

It needs no protection than to be felt in the heart
It makes no apologies for revealing errors of the smart

Truth when rejected loses none of its luster
Truth when accepted gains no glory to bolster
It is its own defense in the face of error
It is its own apologist in the threatening hour

Truth is written in every fiber of YHWH’s creation
Truth is spoken through the book His Inspiration
Truth was not crafted by great men in the church
It existed in the universe ere there was an earth

Truth is the name of the Father’s Son
Truth is the teachings of the only begotten One
Truth is revealed by His Holy Spirit of Prophecy
It is made naked in the world for men to see

Truth when believed subdues every heart
‘tis the bond of God’s law on the new birth’s part
Truth is hidden from the wise and the prudent
Truth is accepted by the child-like student

Truth is God’s way for men to earn salvation
Truth is his law ere the beginning of creation
It is light to the pilgrim to make them understand
It will brighten their way to the Promised Land

Truth, only truth, is the Saviours’ invitation
Truth is revealed in the book of His revelation
Truth endures every dart and every strife
For it is the only way, the truth, and the life

So make your decision to love the truth and live
For truth remains truth whether or not you believe
Truth is the promise to all who shall overcome
They shall live and reign with him in His kingdom

Russia is Stealthily Threatening America With Nuclear War, September 16, 2014

Russia likes to send Bear bombers to other countries whenever it needs to make a point.

(SERGEI KARPUKHIN/Reuters/Corbis) Last week, two aircraft took off from an air base in western Russia, just east of the Russian city of Saratov. The aircraft, Tu-95 strategic bombers code-named Bear by NATO, flew northwest, skirting Iceland, Greenland, and Canada.

Once beyond Canada, the two lumbering, propeller-driven bombers settled on a heading straight toward the United States. Their goal was a "launch box" off the coast of the U.S. from which, during wartime, they would fire nuclear-tipped cruise missiles towards American cities and military bases.

The provocative flights were timed to a NATO summit, attended by President Obama, then taking place in Wales. On the agenda in Wales: what to do about Russia's invasion of Ukraine...

Relations between Russia and the West have taken a dark turn since Russian President Vladimir Putin returned to power in 2012. Russia's invasion of Ukraine and general unpleasantness to its pro-Western neighbors has the world wondering if it could be headed into a second Cold War.

An out-and-out Cold War, with the world carved into opposing power blocs, is unlikely at this point. Russia is now inextricably part of the global economic system, and despite its differences with NATO and the democratic West, Russia needs to participate in the system — and maintain ties with the West — to keep its economy running...

From bases in Russia's Far East, Bears periodically circumnavigate Japan, flying simulated attack runs against Japanese radar stations. Such flights are mainly done when Japan becomes especially vocal about the return of the so-called Northern Territories, four Japanese islands seized by the Soviet Union at the end of World War II. The message to Japan, which was twice attacked with nuclear weapons from bombers, is pretty unambiguous.

Center for Disease Control: 'Now is Time to Prepare' for Ebola

Tuesday, 16 Sep 2014, By Melanie Batley

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention have issued a stark warning to healthcare professionals saying "now is the time to prepare" for an Ebola outbreak.

According to the Washington Examiner, the CDC has issued a six-page checklist to help healthcare employees determine if patients are infected with the virus. While the department does not suggest that there are new cases of the deadly disease in the United States, it has suggested that it may not be long before doctors need to be concerned about it spreading.

"Every hospital should ensure that it can detect a patient with Ebola, protect healthcare workers so they can safely care for the patient, and respond in a coordinated fashion," the CDC said in its alert.

"While we are not aware of any domestic Ebola Virus Disease cases (other than two American citizens who were medically evacuated to the United States), now is the time to prepare, as it is possible that individuals with EVD in West Africa may travel to the United States, exhibit signs and symptoms of EVD, and present to facilities," the noticed added.

The checklist recommends that healthcare providers plan regular briefings for decision — makers about suspected and confirmed EVD patients that have been identified and reported to public health authorities; isolation, quarantine, and exposure reports; and supplies and logistical challenges, including contingency plans for staff.

The advice has been distributed to major hospitals, and a number of facilities and medical websites have begun to post it online.

Miracle Mineral Solution

With the current scare of Ebola looming over us I believe it is imperative that we take some measures to try to protect ourselves and our families. One measure I believe that each one of us can do is to have in our medicine cabinet a product called MMS or Miracle Mineral Solution.

This product will attack any negative pathogen in your system without harming any of the good. Jim Humble, the originator of MMS has proven over and over that this product will aid in reversing diseases simply by destroying the negative pathogens which then allows the immune system to kick in at full speed and heal the body.

When used as directed this is a very safe product to use and I highly recommend it. Please do your research and see for yourself by reading all of the testimonies. Start with the website www.jimhumble.org also go to www.youtube.com and put in MMS testimonials. Be certain to include watching the youtube testimony of the Red Cross testing the product on over 150 malaria patients, in Africa, who in just hours of receiving only 1 treatment were cured of the disease (one person did require 2 treatments because of the severity of the illness). The Red Cross then tried to cover this information up not wanting the world to know of such a wonderful product. Thank the Lord that someone leaked the video and it has been posted on youtube for all to see for themselves.

Because this product is so successful it is the desire of "big pharma" to shut this down. At one time it was very easy to find many websites offering MMS 1 and MMS 2, but not so anymore. Many sites are scared that big brother will come after them., as, with one person from Spokane Washington, Daniel Smith, who is facing a 36 year prison sentence. You can find more information about this at Jim Humbles website.

I did find it on ebay.com but who knows how long it will be offered there. MMS is very reasonably priced considering a 4 ounce bottle if used at a maintenance level would last one person a whole year. If you are new at using MMS be certain to order one bottle of MMS as well as the bottle of citric acid to activate the MMS, one bottle of each at the sellers site I found on ebay was $12.99 plus $3.75 for shipping.

Almost every disease we could think of has been beaten by using MMS to kill the negative pathogens. MMS will attack, viruses, parasites, heavy metals, anything that is hindering the body. Personally I believe that this may be strong enough to even help fight ebola, but it has not been tested and proven yet for this.

Please do not waste time before you investigate this great product once you are ill it may be too late. It is best to get yours ordered before you cannot find it anymore too, and please ignore that the main MMS promoters formed a church, they did it to protect the product and their right to use it. This will work for pets too. Ω

E.J. Waggoner stated in the 1901 General Conference Bulletin pg 145, "The kingdom is to be restored, and the power of it is to be seen before the new heavens and earth can be made; because when it comes down to the very last time before probation has ceased, there must be a complete, clearcut line of demarcation between the righteous and the wicked.

Ellen G White states, "When the four angels let go, Christ will set up His kingdom." {SpM 3.2}

When are the four angels let go? At the time of the Sunday law, it is then that persecution is let loose upon the church.

Not until this kingdom is fully visible can it be a witness to all other nations and not until it is established can it break in pieces all these other nations.

What is holding back the establishment of this kingdom? Sin! This kingdom will be made up of righteous people only, and not until you and I put away sin from our lives can we inherit this kingdom, for it will "not be left to other people"—the unrighteous. If "we" fail to put away sin, others may not fail, and "we" may find ourselves cut down when God puts on His garments of vengeance and comes to earth to reckon with His church (temple) {Malachi 3:1}.

Wake up ye slumbering saints before it is too late and study as never before, and make yourselves ready to meet the bridegroom.

In the future The Kings Journal will continue to expound upon this concept of a literal kingdom that is to be established on this earth before the second coming of Christ. We will show through scripture and SOP the reasons why it is to be established, when it is to be established, how long it will be established for, and who it is that will be in the kingdom.

A gospel that Christ proclaimed will be preached "and then the end will come" must be of significant importance and one we must all understand. Ω the governor among the nations.

THE EXODUS OF TODAY

TEXT OF ADDRESS BY V.T. HOUTEFF,

SABBATH, NOVEMBER 23, 1946

This afternoon we shall study Zechariah 8. The first thing we need to know in the study of this chapter is whether its promises are made to the people of Zechariah's time or to the people of our time. To find this out, it is necessary for us to read a few scattered verses. We shall begin with

Zech. 8:7, 8 -- "Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Behold, I will save My people from the east country, and from the west country; and I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and they shall be My people, and I will be their God, in Truth and in righteousness."

In these verses we see that God is promising to save His people not from the land of ancient Babylon, where Zechariah then was, but from the east and from the west, and to bring them to Jerusalem. They are to be His people, not by virtue of their ancestry, or by some other, but in Truth and righteousness. Now, since the promise in these verses did not meet its fulfillment in Zechariah's day, nor at any time thereafter, it stands to reason that it must meet its fulfillment sometime in the future. Let us read--

Zech. 8:13 -- "And it shall come to pass, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah, and house of Israel; so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing: fear not, but let your hands be strong."

Besides promising to save His people from the east and from the west, the Lord promises to save also the house of Judah and the house of Israel, both of the scattered ancient kingdoms. You are well acquainted with the fact that the ten-tribe kingdom constituted the house of Israel. And since these two kingdoms have never yet been united and brought back to Jerusalem, there is but one logical conclusion to be reached: The promises of this chapter are to be fulfilled in the time of the "gathering of the people" from the four corners of the earth. In view of this great and grand work the Lord expects our hands to be "strong." Next we shall read—

Zech. 8:20-22 -- "Thus saith the Lord of hosts; It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come people, and the inhabitants of many cities: and the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, Let us go speedily to pray before the Lord, and to seek the Lord of hosts: I will go also. Yea, many people and strong nations shall come to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the Lord."

Since we know that no nation aside from the Jewish nation in Zechariah's day went to seek the Lord and to pray before Him in Jerusalem, there is no alternative but again to admit that the promises of Zechariah 8 belong to the people in the time of the final harvests, in the gathering time.

Having completed our analysis of the time this chapter meets its fulfillment, we can, I am sure, now study the prophecy itself with much greater interest than we could have otherwise. Let us begin with Zech. 8:1-3 -- "Again the word of the Lord of hosts came to me, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts; I was jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I was jealous for her with great fury. Thus saith the Lord; I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called a city of truth; and the mountain of the Lord of hosts the holy mountain."

Yes, wonderful things are spoken of Zion and Jerusalem. At one time the Lord forsook the city and scattered the people. But at the time these scriptures are being revealed, He is to return, to gather His elect, and to bring them to Zion and Jerusalem. When this great work shall have been accomplished Jerusalem will then be called "a city of Truth,...the holy mountain" -- a people well versed in God's whole Truth and without a sinner in their midst. This great wonder evidently takes place during the Judgment of the Living, the righteous are taken there while the wicked are being bound in bundles as it were for to be destroyed. And while the Lord dwells in Zion, His Truth shall then emanate from Zion and Jerusalem. Then it is that "many people and strong nations shall come to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the Lord." Now is our greatest chance to work and pray "Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven."

Zech. 8:4, 5 -- "Thus saith the Lord of hosts; There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, and every man with his staff in his hand for very age. And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof."

Jerusalem shall be a city of joy, too. There shall be no fear or accident; even the children shall safely play in the streets. There shall be no "long faces," and no worried looks. So shall it be for both young and old.

Zech. 8:6 -- "Thus saith the Lord of hosts; If it be marvelous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these days, should it also be marvelous in Mine eyes? saith the Lord of hosts."

Just because the fulfillment of this prophecy might seem too marvelous and impossible, must it necessarily seem impossible to the Lord, also? -- Indeed not.

Zech. 8:7, 8 -- "Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Behold, I will save My people from the east country, and from the west country; and I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and they shall be My people, and I will be their God, in Truth and in righteousness."

Zechariah predicts the gathering of the saints out of all nations into God's purified and Truth-filled church, the Kingdom, just as the parable of the harvest teaches, only the wheat is to be put into the barn, church. There is to be no mixed company of saints and sinners in the "holy mountain of the Lord."

Zech. 8:9 -- "Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words by the mouth of the prophets, which were in the day that the foundation of the house of the Lord of hosts was laid, that the temple might be built."

God here counsels us to let our hands be strong, and stable.

We, too, should hear the words of the prophets and though we be not building the temple which they were building, yet that is the only way that our work can prosper. We cannot afford to close our ears to what the prophets say, or to sit down in an unconcerned attitude.

Zech. 8:10-12 -- "For before these days there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast; neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the affliction: for I set all men every one against his neighbour. But now I will not be unto the residue of this people as in the former days, saith the Lord of hosts. For the seed shall be prosperous; the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things."

How thankful and glad we ought to be that the days of our affliction are almost at the end, that now if we hear His prophets, and brace ourselves for the work, the Lord assures us of peace and prosperity. This may soon be ours if we but steadfastly cling to the Truth, and thus to the Lord.

Zech. 8:13 -- "And it shall come to pass, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah, and house of Israel; so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing: fear not, but let your hands be strong."

Though we have been great sinners and a great curse among the heathen, yet even far greater will our blessings be if we let Him give them to us. Our hands, should be strong to hasten that glad day.

Just because the fulfillment of this prophecy might seem too marvelous and impossible, must it necessarily seem impossible to the Lord, also? -- Indeed not.

Zech. 8:14, 15 -- "For thus saith the Lord of hosts; As I thought to punish you, when your fathers provoked Me to wrath, saith the Lord of hosts, and I repented not: so again have I thought in these days to do well unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah: fear ye not."

Again and again we are assured that as great as has been His people's punishment, just that great shall be their joy and comfort now in the gathering time.

Zech. 8:16 -- "These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man the Truth to his neighbour; execute the judgment of Truth and peace in your gates."

Everyone one of us is admonished to teach the Truth to his neighbour, to do whatever he finds close to his hand. We are to execute judgment of Truth rather than waste breath and time talking about the sins of others lest we fail to see the knotty "beam" in our own eye. Let us, as this scripture instructs, speak the Truth, execute judgment and peace in our homes and in our midst. Never should we busy ourselves with other people's concerns. We should do well if we manage our own.

Zech. 8:17 -- "And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the Lord."

Of all the things Christians need to learn, this one thing is most urgent: That they be honest with themselves and with others, that they always speak the truth, that they cease imagining evil against one another. Remember, when you repeat hear-say you most likely are speaking falsehood, either wholly or in part. This you cannot afford to do, for "there shall in no wise enter [the city] anything that...maketh a lie" Rev. 21:27. Evil speaking and evil surmising are things which the Lord hates.

Zech. 8:18, 19 -- "And the word of the Lord of hosts came unto me, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts; The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth, shall be to the house of Judah joy and gladness, and cheerful feasts; therefore love the Truth and peace."

These ancient and typical fasts shall turn to be antitypical feasts of joy and gladness.

Zech. 8:22 -- "Yea, many people and strong nations shall come to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the Lord."

It is interesting to envisage the expansion of God's Truth as outlined in this chapter: First, one individual speaks the Truth to another individual. Then one city communicates It to another city. Finally, one strong nation invites another nation to join the Lord. Thus will the harvest continue until the gospel work is finished, until God's faithful people stand on the Lord's right side (in the Kingdom), and the hypocrites with the heathen stand on His left side (in the condemned Gentile world that is ready to perish).

Zech. 8:23 -- "Thus saith the Lord of hosts; In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall take hold out of all languages of the nations, even shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you: for we have heard that God is with you."

It is logical to conclude that the ten men who take hold of all the languages of the nations in the time of this great ingathering are figurative of a group of people (the church freed from tares in the harvest time), just as the ten virgins (Matt. 25:1) are figurative of the church while the tares are still commingled with wheat. The ten servants (Luke 19:13), and the ten horns (Rev. 12:3; 17:3) are numbers of universality. These ten men will speak all the languages as did the Apostles on the Pentecost.

Obviously, the "Jew" whose skirt the people will take hold of must be the one through whom the Lord is working to reveal Himself and His Truth to the people. Having discovered this fact, naturally they will say, "We will go with you: for we have heard that God is with you." This particular Jew, of course, is not of the present-day identified Jews, but most likely a descendant of the Christian Jews, -- perhaps of those who in the apostolic age lost their identity by naming themselves Christians (Acts 11:26). Again, he may be a descendant of any of the Jews who were driven from their homeland, scattered throughout the nations, and assimilated by them, then converted to Christianity.

"And in that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people; to it shall the Gentiles seek: and his rest shall be glorious. And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall set His hand again the second time to recover the remnant of His people, which shall be left, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea. And He shall set up an ensign for the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth....

And there shall be an highway for the remnant of His people, which shall be left, from Assyria; like as it was to Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt." Isa. 11:10-12,

Thus shall the gathering of the people be in the final exodus of today.

This ends the eighth chapter of Zechariah, and now we shall in a brief summary consider some of the things which we have learned in this study:

First and most important of all, we have learned that the promises contained in Zechariah's prophecy are to be fulfilled in our day, and that very shortly wonderful things are to happen; that at one time the Lord had to forsake Jerusalem and scatter His people throughout the world, but now He is to return and gather His elect from the four corners of the earth; that Jerusalem is to be called a city of Truth and of joy -- no fear, no accidents, no sorrow there; that God's people are to enjoy peace and prosperity; that they are to speak well of everyone, no longer will they waste their breath or time talking of the sins of others; that never will they busy themselves with other people's concerns; that they are to manage their own, and execute judgment and peace in their homes; that God's Truth is to expand rapidly: at first one individual speaking the Truth to another; then one city communicating It to another city; finally one strong nation is to invite another nation to join the Lord.

Finally, one strong nation invites another nation to join the Lord. Thus will the harvest continue until the gospel work is finished, until God's faithful people stand on the Lord's right side (in the Kingdom), and the hypocrites with the heathen stand on His left side (in the condemned Gentile world that is ready to perish).

I agree with you that these promises do seem incredible and even fantastic. But the more they so appear, the brighter the prospect, for God does not do what seems possible to man, but He does the things that seem altogether impossible to them. Think of God's marvelous work in the Exodus Movement: He led them out of Egypt, while they marched through the Red Sea, through the desert, and through the Jordan. He brought down manna from heaven, and continued to do so for forty long years. Visualize, if you can, Pharaoh's brick slaves becoming prophets, priests, and kings! The three Hebrews comfortably standing in the midst of the fiery furnace; and of Daniel in the lion's den; of Mordecai's victory over Haman; of David's victory over the giant; of Joseph feeding the world; of Moses surviving the Nile; of Samson pulling down the temple by bare hands. Countless are the wonders of God's mighty power all through the ages. All these deliverances, and many others were absolutely impossible with men, but very much possible with God. These mighty miracles bring us face to face with the fact that God is in the business of making "possibles" out of discordant "impossibles." Therefore, "let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words" of the Lord. Ω

Hope for the Righteous

"Amidst the deepening shadows of earth's last great crisis, God's light will shine brightest, and the song of hope and trust will be heard in clearest and loftiest strains.

"In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah;

We have a strong city;

Salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks.

Open ye the gates,

That the righteous nation which keepeth the truth may enter in.

Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace,

Whose mind is stayed on Thee: because he trusteth in Thee.

Trust ye in the Lord forever:

For in the Lord Jehovah is everlasting strength."

Isaiah 26:1-4. {Ed 166.3}

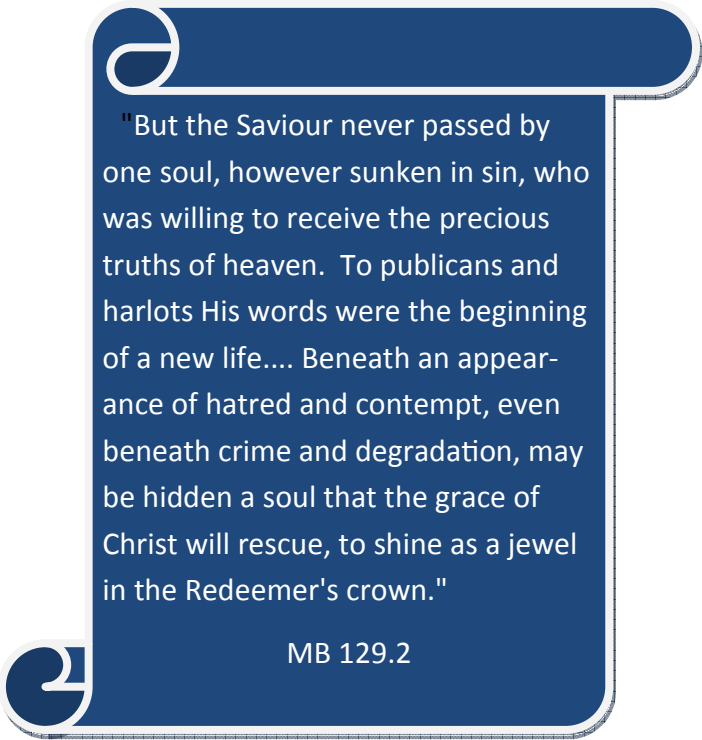

"The ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come with singing unto Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their heads: they shall obtain gladness and joy, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away." Isaiah 35:10, R.V. {Ed 167.1}

"They shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and shall flow together unto the goodness of the Lord: . . . and their soul shall be as a watered garden; and they shall not sorrow any more at all." Jeremiah 31:12. {Ed 167.2}

Sending Russian bombers to the borders of another country every day for a week frightens people — doing it once or twice a year merely baffles them. The government, on the other hand, gets the message. The Sept. 4 flight by two Russian bombers was a pointed message to the United States and NATO that Russia was not unaware of the meeting and that a consequence of NATO action in Ukraine could be nuclear war. <http://theweek.com/article/index/268137/russia-is-stealthily-threatening-america-with-nuclear-war>

"But the Saviour never passed by one soul, however sunken in sin, who was willing to receive the precious truths of heaven. To publicans and harlots His words were the beginning of a new life.... Beneath an appearance of hatred and contempt, even beneath crime and degradation, may be hidden a soul that the grace of Christ will rescue, to shine as a jewel in the Redeemer's crown."

Encapsulated Vitamin C

We know vitamin C is used intravenously in alternative clinics to help eradicate cancer. The fact that oral vitamin C doesn't offer the same results is also known. But, what is not well known is a specially designed vitamin C delivery system that you can buy or prepare at home – which offers similar benefits to intravenous, vitamin C therapy.

Vitamin C offers a safe alternative to toxic cancer treatments

The dismissal of vitamin C as a cancer therapy was based upon oral-dose vitamin C; studies are now showing that intravenous vitamin C has great potential as a cancer therapy. Now, it is possible to get the same results of intravenous vitamin C using “liposomal” vitamin C.

In this case, the vitamin is encapsulated in sub-microscopic bubbles called liposomes. This makes it a size and composition for the liposomes to slip through the GI tract unharmed and unchanged, so they can be readily absorbed by the small intestines, and transported to the liver through the lymphatic system. In the liver, the liposomes are metabolized and the vitamin C is released into the bloodstream to circulate through out the body.

The beauty of liposomal vitamin C therapy

The encapsulating liposomes are made of “essential phospholipids” which the body needs, recognizes and sends straight to the liver along with the vitamin C. This substance has health benefits in and of itself. It is what cell membranes are made of and the benefits include lowering LDL (bad) cholesterol, improving coronary circulation, liver protection and regeneration.

There is no digestive activity prior to assimilation so there is no gastric distress, increased urination or flushing. This makes it possible to take a high concentration of liposomal vitamin C without harming the body.

Conventional medicine wants to “cover up” the benefits of vitamin C

In a study first published in 2008, for the first time, using a special liposomal form of oral-dose vitamin C, researchers in Britain demonstrated it is possible to achieve cancer-killing concentrations of this vitamin without undesirable side effects. This study was completely overlooked by the cancer community. The study was published in a journal cataloged by the National Library of Medicine (NLM), but articles from that journal can NOT be accessed at the NLM website.

The report was submitted for publication, then the publisher of the journal changed editors and the new editor tried to scratch the report from its publication schedule. When the report finally got published, the journal itself was discontinued and its articles were no longer indexed by NLM.

This is how good science is hidden from the public! It appears to be an intentional effort to hide the benefits of vitamin C for cancer patients. By the way, an (online) abstract is provided at the Journal of Nutritional and Environmental Medicine website.

A valuable lesson in life – always take responsibility for your own health

Remember, making your own decisions about what's best for you – is always your best choice. The reluctance of modern medical doctors to offer vitamin C therapy to cancer patients means we have to find our own resources.

Researchers Stephen Hickey and Hilary J. Roberts, long-time advocates of vitamin C therapy and authors of the book “Asorbate: The Science of Vitamin C”, believe the use of repeated doses, and the special liposomal form of vitamin C that is absorbed in the gut and then into the liver before it is released are key to making oral vitamin C therapy effective.

At the very least, this information should be public knowledge, and not tucked away – like a secret. Nothing seems to beat the healing power of nature and what's needed is a medical community that supports it.

Liposomal vitamin C can be bought on the web and so can the items needed to make some. There are books, and videos posted online with the instructions on how to make liposomal vitamins. When the medical community refuses to come to their senses – nothing beats some applied ingenuity.

Recipe Time

Vegan Mac and Cheese Pie with Breadcrumb Topping

What You Need!

- 1 1/2 cups elbow macaroni
- 4 tablespoons vegan margarine (I like Organic Smart Balance)
- 3 tablespoons whole wheat flour
- 1/2 cup diced yellow onion
- 1 cup unsweetened soymilk (not plain soymilk. It needs to say unsweetened)
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 cup vegetable broth (I like to use Organic Better Than Bouillon vegetable base-1tsp per 8oz water)
- 1/2 cup firm tofu, drained, pressed, and crumbled
- 1 cup nutritional yeast flakes
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon turmeric
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1 teaspoon Bragg's Amino Acids
- 1/4 teaspoon sea salt
- sprinkle of paprika
- 1 cup or more - Arrowhead Mills Organic Savory Herb Stuffing

What You Do

I like to use organic ingredients whenever I can. They are more expensive, but if you can swing it, it is well worth it. Better for you, better for the environment!

1. Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Boil macaroni according to directions. Drain, rinse, and set aside.
2. Melt margarine in large saucepan over medium heat.

Add diced onion and saute until translucent. While the onion is sauteeing, stir the lemon juice into the soymilk until it thickens up and curdles. Set aside.

3. In a blender, combine veggie broth, soymilk, tofu, nutritional yeast, dry mustard, turmeric, garlic powder, and Bragg's amino acids. Blend until smooth. Set aside.
4. Add the flour to the onion and margarine and whisk until you have a smooth thick roux. Pour the blended mixture into the roux and whisk until smooth. Add the sea salt and pepper to taste and allow mixture to cook for a minute or two, turning the heat down a little if needed. Do not allow mixture to boil, just a low simmer. It will be thick and you don't want it to overcook.
5. Combine the noodles with the sauce in a 2 quart casserole dish. Mix well and sprinkle the top with paprika. Cover the top with a generous layer of the stuffing(or just breadcrumbs). Bake on bottom rack of oven (4-6 inches away from bottom burners) for 20 minutes. Place on top rack and bake another 10 minutes, or until top is golden and bubbly. Remove from oven and allow to cool for 5 minutes before serving. Enjoy!

Source of recipe: After making various versions of vegan mac and cheese over the years and experimenting with ingredients, this is my own final recipe and I think it is a great tasting, savory version that goes great with any meal, especially a Thanksgiving Tofurkey.

"...MD Dr. Thomas Levy. Dr. Levy has been a proponent and administrator of IV C mega dosing for decades. At first he didn't believe liposomal encapsulated vitamin C could compete with mega dose IV treatments.

"He discovered otherwise and came to the conclusion that encapsulated vitamin C was superior to IVC. Levy's words: "I subsequently realized that the liposome gave the ultimate bioavailability: intracellular delivery, including the mitochondria, endoplasmic reticulum, and even the nucleus... 2 to 6 packets daily covers most individuals for most situations."

There are many videos on www.youtube.com on how to make your own encapsulated vitamin C for just pennies. If you or a loved one is suffering from any disease, but especially from cancer why not give this a try? Ω

Prayer Requests

Please keep the brethren in prayer, there are several among us who are dealing with health issues.

Pray for the phone conference meetings we have had some new attendees, some not even Seventh-day Adventists.

Keep Br. David in prayer as he will be traveling to St Lucia to meet with a Brother from another DSDA group who wants to study the topic of Antitypical David (Praise the Lord) We pray not so much for others to join us, but to take back to their groups the understanding of just who David is! We need seed planters!

Pray that all will received a blessing during these fall Festivals.

Pray for the SDA's attending the festivals that are still learning about the kingdom message that they may soon choose to join us in proclaiming this wonderful message.
